

What is the most important consideration when purchasing a monument?

A monument is a tribute to a precious memory that will live in our hearts forever. As such, a monument purchase should be done unhurriedly and with great care and consideration under the direction of one of our trained professional memorial counselors. You will discover that we have many styles & options and a full range of products that we make available to you.

Do I still need a monument if a loved one chooses cremation?

Choosing cremation over traditional burial should not change a family's desire to remember and honour a loved one. A granite bench in a park or a boulder by a river can all act as a focal point for remembrance. Our catalogue shows a range of cremation memorials as standard items to always commemorate a life lived.

Why should I consider purchasing my monument before we actually need to?

Purchasing your family memorial on a pre-need basis is one of the smartest decisions a family can make. This takes a great deal of stress and strain off grieving family members at a time that should be reserved for reflection and remembrance for their loved one. It also ensures each individual is being remembered for the life they lived in the hearts that they have touched. Remember, a monument is a celebration of a life lived that serves as a focal point of remembrance for eternity. Call our Toll Free Number (1-800-561-9014) for a free family estate planner.
